3. Which of the following is true according to the text? (3점)

Dear Ms. Know-It-All,

I regret that I never listened to whatever Mom said to me. When she said I should go east and jump, I said I would go west and swim. When she said I should stay inside, I said I would play outside. Before she died, she told me to bury her by the stream, not in the hill.

I said to myself I would listen to her last wish and be a good son. So I buried her by the stream. But whenever it rains, I’m so worried that she may be washed away. What should I do?

Sincerely,
Green Frog

- ① Green Frog regrets listening to his mom when she was alive.
- ② Green Frog is worried because he didn’t follow his mom’s last wish.
- ③ Green Frog wants to become a good son after his mom died.
- ④ Green Frog’s mom believed that he would bury her by the stream.
- ⑤ Green Frog’s mom always said something in an opposite way, so it was very confusing.

[5-6] Read the text and answer the questions.

Once upon a time, seven brothers lived together with their old mother. They were poor, but happy.

One year, in the early winter, the seven brothers were collecting firewood. They wanted their mother to stay warm.

They lit a fire and made the room warm. But their mother still looked cold. They were worried, but she said, "I don't feel very well now, but I'll be okay. Don't worry."

One night, the oldest brother woke up and saw that his mother was not in the room. He was so worried that he couldn't go back to sleep. After several hours, his mother finally came back to the room.

So the next night, the oldest brother pretended to sleep so he could watch his mother. Finally, his mother quietly got up and went out of the room.

The oldest brother followed his mother quietly. She went outside the village and came to a stream that had ice on it. She crossed the cold stream and kept (A) until she reached her husband's grave.

She (B) the grave and started (C) the grave. Sometimes she smiled at the grave and touched it. She seemed to enjoy talking very much.

"I guess she misses Father a lot," the oldest brother thought to himself.

The oldest brother quickly returned home and told this to his brothers. One of the brothers spoke up, "Then, let's put stepping stones across the stream." The other brothers agreed, "Yes. Let's do that." All seven brothers ran to the stream and put stepping stones across the stream.

After several hours, the mother returned to the stream again. When she saw the stream, she said happily, "I wonder who built such a nice bridge during the night." She looked up at the sky and said, "Whoever built this bridge must be very kind. I wish they would become stars in the sky."

The seven brothers lived very happy lives. Many years later when they died, they became the seven stars of the Big Dipper.

7. Which of the following is the correct order to complete the story? (3점)

Chilbok and Manbok were two good brothers. They worked hard and shared equally what they got.

(A) The next day, Chilbok found he still had enough rice. So he decided to give some more to Manbok.

(B) That night, he carried some of his rice to Manbok's storehouse.

(C) One day, Chilbok thought Manbok would need more rice because he had just gotten married.

(D) The two brothers were surprised and shouted at the same time. It turned out that Manbok did the same to his brother because Chilbok had a big family.

(E) After dinner, as Chilbok set out to Manbok's house carrying the rice, he found a man walking close to his house.

10. Which of the following is true according to the passage below? (3점)

Dear Suji,

We finally arrived in Spain last night. We were so tired from riding the bus from France that we went to bed right away. The next day, we woke up late and went downtown to buy new shoes (I lost my shoes, so I had to wear slippers!). Can you guess what happened? All the shoe stores were closed, so we went for something to eat. At the restaurant, we heard about "Siesta." During that time, people take a nap. Isn't it interesting? I miss you. See you in Seoul.

Sincerely,

Jessica

- ① Jessica went on a trip to Seoul.
- ② During "Siesta", people take a nap.
- ③ Jessica prefer slippers to shoes while traveling.
- ④ Jessica lost her slippers, so she tried to buy new shoes.
- ⑤ Jessica came to know about "Siesta" at the shoe store.

[14-15] Read the text and answer the questions.

Lightning is a streak of electricity that occurs in every thunderstorm. (A) Lightning is caused when the negative charge of electricity in the rain clouds meets the positive charge of electricity in the falling raindrops. (B) Most lightning occurs from cloud-to-cloud, but some lightning occurs from cloud-to-ground, where it can start fires, melt metal, or be deadly to people. (C) Although 90% of people survive lightning strikes, they can cause major internal injuries, burns, and hearing loss. 240,000 people are struck by lightning or are injured as a result of lightning every year.

Thunder is caused by the rapid expansion of air and temperature inside and around a lightning strike. (D) Such an expansion of air is known as a sonic shock wave. Did you know you can calculate the distance of lightning from its thunder? Thunder occurs after lightning because the light travels much more quickly than sound. (E) Thus, if you see lightning in the sky and hear thunder five seconds later, the lightning is about one mile from your location.

14. Where is the best place of the given sentence in the passage above? (4점)

In normal circumstances, lightning is 0.2 miles distant from a given location for every second that passes between the lightning and its thunder.

- ① A ② B ③ C ④ D ⑤ E

15. Which of the following is true according to the text? (4점)

- ① About 24 people are injured by lightning every year.
- ② When struck by lightning, 80 percent of people get burns or hearing loss.
- ③ Lightning is caused by a sudden increase in air and temperature around a rain cloud.
- ④ Most lightning occurs from cloud to cloud, but some lightning can occur from cloud to the ground.
- ⑤ Thunderstorm occurs when the positive charge of electricity in the rain cloud meets the negative charge of electricity in the falling rain.

[16-17] Read the text and answer the questions.

Prometheus was the favorite son of Zeus, the father of the gods. He formed creatures with his hands that were very similar to the gods. He breathed new life into them and taught them to use their hands and use their minds. They built houses, cities and ships, and they cultivated the fields. But Zeus was afraid that these creatures would get too powerful and he forbade Prometheus and all the gods to give fire to these people. But clever Prometheus wanted to give his creatures the most valuable present: fire. He lit a torch on Helios' sparking chariot and brought the fire to the people.

When Zeus saw that, he swore revenge to the humans. He sent many (A) diseases, the plague and fever. Zeus punished Prometheus for his crime, too. He was chained to a rock where he had to stay without food and drink and sleep for many centuries. Eventually, Heracles, another son of Zeus, broke the chains of Prometheus and gave him back his freedom.

16. Which is most proper word for blank (A) ? (3점)

[20-21] Read the text and answer the questions.

Taking a nap is like a system (㉠). It relieves stress and gives you a fresh start. According to a study about napping, research subjects who nap show greater emotional (㉡), improved cognitive function, and more. So I suggest you seriously consider taking a daily nap for yourself. Here are a few practices I have found helpful;

•Be consistent:

Try to nap at the same time every day. This helps stabilize your circadian rhythms and maximize the (㉢). One easy way to do this? Schedule it.

•Turn off the lights:

Light acts as a cue for our bodies. Darkness communicates it is time to shut down—or go into standby mode. If you can't turn off the lights, use a simple eye mask. Turn the lights back up to full brightness when you wake up.

•Use a blanket:

When you sleep, your metabolism falls your breathing rate slows, and your temperature drops slightly. Though not (㉣), you will usually be more comfortable if you use a light blanket when you nap.

Finally, shift your own thinking about naps. People who take them are not lazy. They might just be the smartest, most (㉤) people you know.

20. What cannot be answered after reading the text? (4점)

- ① What is a good point of napping?
- ② What is a bad effect of taking a nap?
- ③ What is the role of darkness for napping?
