MYTH 1: Lightning never strikes the same place twice.

(TRUTH) Lightning often strikes the same place repeatedly, especially if that place is tall and sharp. For example, (A)as it was @hit almost 25 times a year, the Empire State Building used to be used as a lightning research center. Places @where lightning often strikes @is places to avoid when thunderstorms are nearby!

MYTH 2: I'm in a house, so I'm safe from lightning.

(TRUTH) ( While a house is a good place for lightning safety, just ( being inside does not mean you are safe. You must stay away from things that are connected to the outside. For example, telephones, TV sets, metal doors, or windows can become a path for lightning to enter your house. Don't stand near a window to watch lightning. An inside room is generally the safest place to be.

Dear Suii.

We finally arrived in Spain last night. We were so tired from riding the bus from France that we went to bed right away. The next day, we woke up late and went downtown to buy new shoes (I lost my shoes, so I had to wear slippers!). Can you guess what happened? All the shoe stores were closed, so we went for something to eat. At the restaurant, we heard about "Siesta." During that time, people take a nap. Isn't it interesting?

I miss you. See you in Seoul.

Sincerely, Jessica

The oldest brother followed his mother quietly. She went outside the village and came (A) a stream that had ice on it. She crossed the cold stream and kept walking until she reached her husband's grave.

She sat (B) the grave and started to talk to the grave. Sometimes she smiled at the grave and touched it. She seemed to enjoy talking very much.

"I guess she misses Father a lot," the oldest brother thought (C) himself.

The oldest brother quickly returned home and told this to his brothers. One of the brothers spoke up, "Then, let's put stepping stones across the stream." The other brothers agreed, "Yes. Let's do that." All seven brothers ran to the stream and put stepping stones across the stream.

After several hours, the mother returned to the stream again. When she saw the stream, she said happily, "I wonder who built such a nice bridge during the night." She looked up at the sky and said, "I wish they become stars in the sky."

The seven brothers lived very happy lives. Many years later when they died, they became the seven stars of the Big Dipper.

How to Fall Asleep

Figuring out how to fall asleep can sometimes be very (A), and young people can especially struggle with getting enough sleep. For better sleep habits, let's look at the following three tips.

1. Reduce screen time.

Blue light emitted by electronic devices can keep you ___(B)__ and distract you from sleeping. A lot of studies have shown difficulty going to sleep or reduced sleep duration if a person is using electronics. All phones, tablets, and TVs should be eliminated at least one hour before going to bed.

2. Keep a strict schedule.

Our bodies adapt to schedules. If we're up late one night, we're likely to stay up until that time the following night. Keeping a strict schedule of going to sleep and waking up at a certain time can help develop a more regular routine.

3. Add some sound.

Certain sounds could help you when you're trying to fall asleep. Water sounds, in particular, have been shown to (C) sleeping. According to Live Science, this kind of white noise could help mask other noises that might interrupt your sleep. Some products have these nature sounds installed; otherwise, you can find apps, playlists, and videos online.
